THE HUSTONVILLE FAIR.

A GRAND SUCCESS IN EVERY PARTICULAR.

HIGH CROWDS, FINE WEATHER, SWEET MUSIC AND PRETTY WOMEN.

The Hustonville fair, which closes today, has been a success in every way. The show of stock exceeded even the fine display of last year while the crowds have been considerably larger. There has been no hitch or misunderstanding whatever and everything has passed off like clock work, thus conclusively proving that the officers selected were the right ones in every respect. The hospitality for which our West End friends are so well known has been even more clearly evinced, while their reputation for giving the best fair in the country has long since been established. President James P. Harper, Secretary W. D. Hocker, Assistant Secretary C. W. Adams, Treasurer J. H. Hocker and the various vice presidents and directors have been untiring in their attention to the crowd in general while their cleverness to the horsemen, who are there by the score, has made them money and lasting friends. The DAILY INTERIOR JOURNAL has covered the ground so thoroughly that we will not go into further details about the most successful fair ever held in Lincoln. 57. H. W. Drye and family are with Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Drye.
58. W. E. Cabell, of Lebanon, is visiting his mother, and taking in the fair.
59. George Davall, Crawford Donaldson and E. L. Stout, of Shelby, are among the beaux present.
60. H. H. Klineason, a clever gentleman and prominent merchant of Bradfordsville, is taking in the whole thing.
61. J. H. Coffey, of Columbia, is taking time about mingling with the fair sex and advertising the Adair Fair, which begins Aug. 22.
62. President Harper is filling his office creditably to both himself and the association, while as treasurer, June H. Hocker is "all right."
63. The quickest, cleverest and best secretary in the country is W. H. Hocker and his gentlemanly assistant, C. W. Adams, isn't far behind.
64. It would take a whole paper to give the names of all the pretty girls from a distance, who are visiting Hustonville during the fair. They, with that good town's quota, go to make up a veritable sea of loveliness.
65. J. Carroll Bailey, of this place, played in hard luck with his brown gelding, Tyson, but he made friends by accepting the inevitable in his characteristic gentlemanly way. He has gotten a red and will more than likely get a blue today.

PLEASANT POINT.

66. W. L. McCarty is employing quite a number of hands canning apples and beans. Tomatoes will be ready very soon.
67. The people are overjoyed with the copious showers that fell Saturday and Sunday. Crops are looking much better since.
68. Mrs. Solomon Phelps, of Ewell, has been visiting friends and relatives in this vicinity and also the grave of her little daughter, Lottie, whose remains were laid to rest a short time ago in the Pleasant Point grave yard.
69. Jerry Hogue, of Casey, visited R. J. Hogue one night this week. Mrs. Oliver Johnson visited Mrs. Fox. W. O. Watts has begun his new building.
70. Little Charley Dye, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Dye, had a severe spell yesterday, the cause unknown.
71. An infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Tillman Padgett died last week and was buried in the old family grave yard of Thomas Jeffreys. A little girl of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Leach died on the 23rd and was buried in the family grave yard. It is reported that there is a great deal of sickness in the neighborhood among children, and some old people.
72. W. L. McCarty, of Kingsville, gave a wonderful good talk in the Sunday School at Pleasant Point last Sunday. We would be glad if the people would heed the earnest exhortation. The subject he read and talked on next Saturday night in the prayer service at this place is "Temperance." Rev. C. L. Hensley will conduct the service.
73. There has been a great work accomplished in the name of the Lord at Pleasant Point Baptist church, Rev. Ira Partin, of Lancaster, acting as pastor, for the past three years. Dr. Action and wife have united with the Baptist church at this place. J. L. Brown and W. G. Routen, of this place, visited the Kingsville church last Sunday night and were delighted with the good singing and the sermon preached by Rev. Todd, of Pulaski, his theme being "Dependancy."

NARROW ESCAPE.

74. Thankful words were written by Mrs. Ada E. Hart, of Union, N. H. "Was taken with a bad cold which settled on my lungs, coughed up and finally terminated in consumption. Four doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Maker, determined I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my Maker on 'another shore.' My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I gave it a trial, took it all eight bottles. It has cured me, and thank God, I am saved, and now a well and healthy woman." Trial bottles free from Penny's Drug Store. Regular size 50c and $1.00. Guaranteed or price refunded.

They make pure blood and give nerve and build up your health. Easy to take. Try them. Only 25 cents. Money back if not cured. Sold by Penny's Drug Store.

B. H. HOWELL, THE AMERICAN OARSMAN.

77. B. H. Howell, the American oarsman, won the Wingfield silver sculls and the championship of the Thames.

LEUNG IMITATION.

78. Is the forerunner to consumption. Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey will cure it, and give added strength to the lungs that a cough or cold will not settle there. Twenty five cents at Penny's Drug Store.

LANCASTER.

The course of Ex-Gov. Brown and the bolters is only tending to unite the party. Attorney W. McC. Johnson is building a handsome residence near town, on the Danville road. Five in seven of the applicants for teachers' certificates last week, stood first class examinations. Miss Beese, daughter of Mr. H. C. Arnold, age 22, died of consumption Wednesday evening. The remains will be buried in Lancaster cemetery today, Thursday, at 3:30 P. M. She was a lovely young lady and leaves a host of friends. Capt. I. M. Dunn requests me to say that he is thankful to his friends for the complimentary call on him to run for representative and that he declines to make the race, preferring the humble walks of life with the high privilege of voting for the democratic nominee. Democrats here want to know if Gov. Brown is running a heat race, as he wanted the regular nomination. Others say that he is in his second infancy and needs a gun nipple. I am told that Dr. Stedman removed his portrait from his parlor when he heard that he was willing to head the bolters' ticket. Prof. H. K. Taylor's illustrated lecture, "The Heart of Cuba," drew an appreciative audience and was highly instructive and entertaining, as we now feel an interest in Cuba. The Spanish violinist, Senor Jose Andon-equi, rendered several productions which captivated the audience.

On July 1, Hunley Singleton took insurance against fire for $750 on a barn and 10,000 pounds of hemp with the Kentucky Growers' Association, of Lexington. It burned on July 3. The company refused to pay the claim on the ground that the valuation was excessive. Eternal right and immutable justice demand the payment because the risk was taken by an agent and the premium was paid. The trial of Marshal E. M. Walker, was continued to Aug. 10 by the commonwealth, on account of an absent witness, Squire I. M. Myers presiding. J. E. Robinson assists Owsley in the prosecution and W. I. Williams appears for the defense. The preliminary trial of Gill Prather for shooting Burton, was called Wednesday and continued until Friday, on motion of County Attorney Owsley. Burton still lives, but the wound is thought to be fatal.

The board of city council met Wednesday and accepted the proposition of Mr. E. P. Moritz for the franchise and erection of water works, subject to ratification by the people in November. The proposition was fully given in my last letter. Mr. Moritz will likely proceed with the survey and work as the people are sure to ratify the action of the board. Considering our many improvements, we are going to have a city in fact.

The doctors of the county with the exception of Dr. Elliott, of Bryantsville, failing to be present at the meeting of the Garrard County Medical Society, the physicians of the town decided to organize a town society, to meet the first Thursday evening of each month, with Dr. H. C. Herring president and Dr. H. M. Grant secretary. Dr. I. S. Wesley will read the first paper on the first Thursday in September. All county physicians are invited to attend these meetings.

The teachers' institute is progressing nicely under the supervision of Prof. J. P. Patterson. Miss Eliza Smith was elected secretary, Supt. Miss Eliza Lusk is doing all that can be done to make the meetings pleasant and profitable. The teachers discussed the Chinn bill and much opposition to it was developed, though no resolution was passed. Hon. R. H. Tomlinson will address the institute this, Thursday, afternoon on civil government.

A number of leading citizens from all sections of the county were interviewed Monday in reference to the proposed railroad extension, and they are all anxious for the road and are willing to help pay for the right of way. If the proper parties will proceed to canvass the farmers on the line surveyed, get the best propositions from them with the amounts they are willing to subscribe, and get a similar expression in town and all over the county, we will get the road, but if some action is not taken we will lose it. The right of way is all that will be required and it will be offered on another route.

A large crowd heard the funeral sermon of Mrs. America Walker at the Presbyterian church last Tuesday and the expressions of sorrow evinced the high esteem in which she was held. She was in her 80th year and her devotion to the church and her strict adherence to the principles of rectitude made her a favorite wherever she was known. Her noble traits are reflected in her children, who move only in the best circles of society. Rev. Henry Paulsoner paid her an eloquent tribute in which he told of her reliance on the

He told how black would be discarded in Heaven and the saints would be clothed in white—the emblem of purity. He showed that consolation could only be found in the Bible, and that not a ray of hope could be seen in science.

CHURCHES AND PREACHERS.

The News says that some 60 conversions have so far resulted from the Methodist meeting being held at Columbus.

At Moore's Chapel, in Lawrence county, Robert Hays seriously cut John Hughes because the latter reproved him for talking in church.

At Versailles, Rev. H. T. Howman, former pastor of the Baptist church, has sued Harker Sells, a deacon, for $40,000 for saying that he was drunk in the pulpit.

Bro. Joe Hopper closed his meeting at Race Horse Chapel with 25 conversions, says the Lexington Gazette. Five joined the Christian church, four the Presbyterian, nine the Baptist, three the Episcopal and three the Methodist. Several will join the Catholic church by confirmation. Bro. Joe will give us a taste of the "Old Time Religion" at the Presbyterian church Sunday morning and night.

PREACHERSVILLE.

The horse of Rev. Marton broke loose Sunday night during services and created quite a stir by taking the buggy around the church several times at a very fast rate.

A crowd of 22 went to Cincinnati Sunday. Mrs. Bascom Archer, of Burgin, is with her sister, Mrs. Hattie Hutchins. Mr. J. B. Hutchins left Tuesday to spend several days with his parents in Knox county.

A protracted meeting is in progress at the Methodist church here. The pastor, Rev. Mr. Britt, is expecting Evangelist D. H. Strouse, of Salem, Va., today, to assist in the meeting. Everybody is invited to attend.

Miss Addie May Cummins has been ill. Mrs. J. F. Pettus, of Lebanon, is visiting relatives here. Mr. Hiram Pettus was with his parents Saturday. Messrs. Log Thompson and Will Richardson, of Illinois, arrived home Sunday.

Jones Anderson bought a cow from Wm. Elmore and John Hutchins for $40. Jim Miller sold a bunch of hogs to John Cross. Price unknown. John Rigby bought a mare in Laurens on court day for $30. George Gibson bought a horse for $16.25.

Mr. W. H. Brown bought a very fine saddle horse Monday for the sum of $150 exclusively for the purpose of riding to the mountains to buy cattle. He saddled his fine animal and mounted to ride home, but under the pressure of so much weight, the plug of skin and bones fell to rise no more. We'll extend sympathy.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For Governor, WILLIAM GOEBEL.
For Lieutenant Governor, J. C. W. BECKHAM.
For Attorney General, R. J. BRECKINRIDGE.
For Auditor, GENE FOUTLER.
For Treasurer, S. W. HAGER.
For Secretary of State, F. BECK HILL.
For Superintendent of Public Instruction, HARRY MCCHESEY.
For Commissioner of Agriculture, EDN. H. SALL.
For Railroad Commissioner, C. P. MCCHORD.
For Representative, M. F. NORTH.

THE democratic nominees selected Senator Blackburn chairman of the campaign committee at their meeting in Frankfort Tuesday, with Gov. McCrory and Dr. Clardy members from the State-at-Large and two from each Congressional district. The campaign is to be inaugurated in two weeks in a big meeting to be held, perhaps in Mayfield, and from that time on the democrats will force the fighting. Each county will be organized by school districts, and it will be the most perfect organization ever known in Kentucky. The following will compile the campaign book to be issued in a few weeks: J. C. S. Blackburn, chairman; William Gray, William Cromwell, Pat McDonald and Robert Franklin. Senator Blackburn says he is hot for the fray and intends to handle the bolters without gloves. He will make the most earnest and active campaign of his life and says he does not doubt the success of the democratic ticket from top to bottom.

THE bolters held a meeting at Liberty Hall in Louisville Tuesday night and had W. H. Sweeney, Hardin's candidate for temporary chairman, as its principal speaker, and he, if possible, made a bigger ass of himself than usual. He raved and tore his shirt in his denunciation of Goebel and fairly made the gallery gods go wild with delight when he said that if Stone should shoot Goebel he would aim at his head, instead of his coat of mail. The Rev. Coleman, who opened the democratic convention with prayer and who afterwards had a fight with a policeman, attempted to speak, and was advised by an irreverent hearer to "give 'em b—l," but retired after saying, "I can't, they have b—l already." Resolutions denouncing Goebel and the politicians' convention and favoring a third ticket were adopted and the squealers lifted themselves out of the hall by the seats of their breeches and hunted their holes in the slums.

GOV. JOHN YOUNG BROWN says he will accept the bolters' nomination for governor and make the supreme effort of his life, but if that effort be crowned with as signal failure as his effort to break into Congress from the 5th district, even the populist candidate need not fear him. A bitter enemy of Gen. Hardin, Gov. Brown supported Goebel because he thought him the best man to down him with, and when the deadlock came he thought he was the natural legatee of Goebel and so made overtures for him to nominate him. Goebel couldn't see it that way and ever since Brown has been nursing a sore. His decision surprises and mortifies his friends, who thought he was more of a man and a democrat than to bolt, much less want to head the bolt.

THAT old back number, T. H. Hays, of Louisville, who is only well bred on his wife's side, having gotten the g. b. from Cripps Beckham, was among the bolters at Bowling Green, offering himself for any kind of an old office from any kind of an old thing. The mage shows by his action that the democratic convention made no mistake in turning him down for lieutenant governor.

JOHN REEA isn't such a bad man after all, even if he did join the tin horn political band for a day. He is going on the raging stump for the democratic ticket and his stentorian voice and rugged oratory will be worth many votes to it.

ADA GRAY, who used to thrill theatre goers a third of a century ago with her plaintive "Then You'll Remember Me" in East Lynne, is dying at New York of cancer, and her friends of the long ago, sorrow over her misfortune.

GOV. BROWN's determination to accept the bolter's nomination for governor, knocks Billy Owens' aspirations into a cocked hat. Poor fellow, he has a falling for getting left and of making a botch of everything he attempts.

It is said that Gov. Bradley will call an extra session of the Legislature to have the Goebel bill repealed, but his experience with it at the last session will doubtless make him think a long time before doing so.

THE Adair County News, which was for Hardin, is doing yeoman service for Goebel and the democratic ticket. Bro. Harris is the kind of a democrat to tie to.

POLITICIANS AND POLITICS.

Knows City offers $50,000 and a nice new auditorium for the democratic National convention.

Fayette county democrats will hold a meeting next week to organize for an aggressive campaign.

Gov. McLaurin has the U. S. Senatorship of Mississippi nailed down, having three times as many votes as Private Allen.

John Melan was defeated for renomination for representative in Calloway and Utley carries Calloway for Senator over Sims and Gilbert.

The populist conventions in McCracken, Ballard and Carlisle counties have instructed for Hon. Bud Reeves, of Ballard county, for Governor.

Editor Rock, of the Richmond Register, appeals to the bolters thus:

"Come back! The role of a bolter is, at best, an unpleasant one. We've been there."

After a thorough search, but one democrat, or one claiming to be a democrat, was found in Lewis county who would not support Goebel.

Like the sinner who "came to scoff, but remained to pray," that meeting of Owen county democrats endorsed the ticket it was meant to repudiate. The democracy of "Sweet Owen" is not of the souring kind.—Louisville Times.

The Georgetown Times thinks it is love's labor lost to enthrone the republicans for nominating a railroad man for commissioner of agriculture as he will never have a chance to tell the farmers in an official way what he does not know about farming.

When it was suggested that he might be a compromise candidate for governor, ex-Chief Justice W. S. Fryor promptly responded: "I am for Senator Goebel. I know him, and, therefore, I am for him. I had rather see him governor than to be governor myself. Such a man is needed. He would make an able governor."

The republicans selected Treasurer G. W. Long as chairman of their campaign committee, with S. J. Pugh and J. F. Buckner members. The committee was authorized to appoint an advisory committee consisting of one or more members from each Congressional district. Louisville was selected as the headquarters of the committee.

Editor Hudson, of the Pathfinder, at Harborsville, announces that he has changed his politics and will remain neutral—(until Goebel's or Taylor's check arrives.) His change is not our loss, but our gain, and if the republicans are willing to take him up, they may have him and his "darned old sheet" too.—London Kentuckian.

If ever a man has had to fight his way, not only in politics, but through his life, this man Goebel is he. His career is a magnificent illustration of the possibilities of brains, energy and integrity—that combination which insures success in every line of endeavor. From a bare footed little newsboy to the governorship of his State is a long stride forward, but every inch of this way has been honestly won, and today in the hour of his triumph Goebel can have the satisfaction of feeling that it is all due to himself, and himself alone.—Atlanta Constitution.

William McKinley is the weakest of American presidents since Jas. Buchanan. Avoidance of responsibility, timidity, the complete domination of politics and an opportunism that has made anything like a definite policy impossible have thus far been the marks of William McKinley's administration. Whether or not the people like this sort of administration will be seen next year, but it is entirely safe to say that without the aid of the patriotic impulse which has been aroused by the war Mr. McKinley would have found himself not only the weakest but the most unpopular of presidents.—Rochester Herald.

A LANCASTER man was considerably taken down when in New York City some time since. He asked for a ticket back home and to his surprise the agent told him there was no such place as Lancaster that he ever heard of or that his maps showed, but he would gladly sell him one to Stanford. "YES SIR, I am going to vote for Goebel this year and Bryan next year, if he is nominated," said Mr. J. H. McAllister to me the other day in answer to our query. Mr. McAllister was one of those democrats who permitted themselves to be led from the path of rectitude by the specious promises of the republicans into voting for McKinley and doesn't mind saying that he is sorry for it, since he has not kept a single promise made for him and used the war with Spain to bolster up his party besides. "I haven't changed my views on the money question" continued Mr. McAllister, "but I am a democrat and do not propose to get fooled again by promises made to be broken."

THE Progressive Carrom Party given by Dr. and Mrs. W. N. Craig to their young married friends Tuesday night was attended by the following couples Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Paxton, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. S. Owsley, Jr., and all report such a delightful evening that those who were expected and could not be present are filled with further regrets. The game was new to most of the guests, but they soon caught on and enjoyed it greatly. Mr. G. B. Wearen won the first prize, a silver paper cutter, and J. S. Hooper, who didn't get from the first table the whole evening, was awarded a nice little jumping jack. Ice and other good things were nicely served and formed no small part of the enjoyment of an occasion, the which are all too few for those who have married out of the swim.

THE rain didn't seem to interfere much with the plans of the young people, for some 35 or 40 couples attended the party Tuesday night at the country home of Mr. John F. Cash, given in honor of his daughter, Miss Roberta Cash, and Etta Belle Cloyd. Every body was made to have a good time and the nice refreshments were heartily enjoyed after the fun of securing partners to it. This was done by matching animals, forms of which had been cut in two and distributed among the belles and beaux. It was past 11 before the party broke up, after expressing their hearty thanks to the sweet little hostesses.
